

CWIL Student Travel Grant on a Saint Mary's Summer Program

Summer 2019

Saint Mary's College's mission includes preparing women to make a difference in an increasingly complex and interdependent world. The role of the Center for Women's Intercultural Leadership (CWIL) within this mission is to foster the intercultural knowledge and competence critical to educating the next generation of women leaders. To achieve this, CWIL promotes intercultural engagement across the Saint Mary's campus, connecting with communities at the local, state, national and global levels. We understand intercultural engagement to consist of two essential parts which combine to result in growth: one is interacting across the boundaries that define identities, circumscribe participation, and shape encounters, and the other is reflection on and interpretation of the complexities of those interactions. Such boundaries include, but are not limited to, race, ethnicity, area of origin, gender, religion, socioeconomic status, educational level, sexual orientation, age, varying ability, and language. Everything we do or support must, in some explicit way, promote this kind of transformative intercultural engagement.

To achieve this CWIL mission, we build collaborative relationships throughout the campus and Michiana, and encourage partnering across departments, disciplines, and other traditional dividing lines. We organize our work into the distinct, but richly interconnected components of Scholarship, Community Connections, and International and Intercultural Learning. We bridge global and domestic diversity issues, mindful of the distinctions between these but also of their commonalities. We highlight the roles of women in relation to these issues, study the interconnections between gender and culture, and conduct all of our work to the end of developing women leaders. Rooted in this developmental approach, we challenge and support individuals and groups to take the next steps toward deeper intercultural experience, more sophisticated grappling with issues of difference such as power and privilege, and greater awareness of their own potential as change agents

GENERAL GUIDELINES

The CWIL Student Travel Grant provides funding to encourage students to participate in international education, a distinct goal of the Center for Women's Intercultural Leadership. Increasing intercultural understanding and knowledge through interaction and reflection is a key objective of CWIL and Saint Mary's College. By participating in an international program of study which emphasizes intercultural engagement, grantees will enhance their own learning and enrich the College environment with new connections and perspectives.

ELIGIBILITY:

- A student must matriculate for at least one semester before and after the completion of her grant. Therefore in most cases, current Saint Mary's First Years, Sophomores, and Juniors may apply for CWIL Student Travel Grant on a Saint Mary's Summer Program. Students are eligible to receive a maximum of one CWIL Student Travel Grant during their degree program.
- Participants of all Saint Mary's summer programs and the Holy Cross Global Education Consortium programs are eligible to apply.
- Funding will be a percentage of program costs based on financial need. Student financial need is determined by the Financial Aid Office and based on the current FAFSA on file at the start of the academic school year. Students who do not have financial need are not qualified for the grant.
- The program aims to support a diverse range of students who have been traditionally under-represented in study abroad. Additional funds will be available for:
 - Students from diverse ethnic backgrounds
 - Students going to non-traditional countries
 - Students in underrepresented fields of study, especially the STEM fields (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics)
